COP FINDS WALLET OF AGED TEXAN

G. R. Watson, aged 80, Friday had G. Roach, police officer stationed at Union station, to thank for the recovery of $2,500 and valuable papers, lost when Watson's wallet dropped from his pocket shortly after he arrived in Memphis. Watson is a native of Leonard, Texas.

Friday morning the aged Texan reached Memphis on the N. C. & St. L. from Nashville en route to his home. Passing through Union station Watson dropped his wallet. Roach spied the "leather" lying on the floor, and when Watson reported the loss a few minutes later turned over the money on identification of papers in the pocketbook. Watson proceeded to Texas on a Cotton Belt train shortly after.

SHELBY JUDGES SUE OUT WRIT OF "HABEAS CORPUS" AGAINST "OLD MAN WORK"

Judge Alfred B. Pittman of Third circuit court is the champion vacationist among the jurists who adorn the bench in Shelby county. Judge Pittman traveled farther this summer than did any other judge to take his vacation. And he is taking the longest stay, too. He is with his family in their summer home at Cedar Gap, Mo.

Most of the local judges preferred to spend their vacations right here in Memphis. Five of the nine have been within telephone call ready for service, whenever they were needed by any member of the bar. Only a little business has been carried on in the Shelby courtrooms during the summer, but an occasional emergency case has brought a judge from his porch swing or hammock to the temple of justice.

Judge J. Ed Richards of First criminal court calls at the courthouse daily. He receives the report of the grand jury each Tuesday, and on Wednesday mornings he presides when arraignments are made. A normal plea of guilty on arraignment then is disposed of when made.

Judge Tom Harsh of Second criminal court has spent the greater part of the summer with Mrs. Harsh and their baby, at his home. But he reported Wednesday that occasionally he held up his fishing tackle and sauntered to Arkansas to war on the finny tribe. Fishing is poor this summer, Judge Harsh says, due to high water and frequent rain.

Judge J. P. Young, nestor of the Shelby bench, was forced by ill health to close his first circuit court earlier than the date set, appears to have regained his old-time vigor. He spent three or four weeks at Hardy, Ark., and that his vacation agreed with him is evident.

Judge Ben L. Capell of Second circuit court has heard a few cases during the summer. The Glanton habeas corpus hearing was the principal one.

summer. He has talked frequently of visiting his son, at the latter's plantation on Lake Washington, in Mississippi. ## CRYSTAL SPRINGS, MISS., K. OF P. SEEKS MEMBERS

CRYSTAL SPRINGS, Miss., Sept. 3. (Sp.)—Officers of the local lodge Knights of Pythias are making a campaign here to revive interest in this ancient order. At one time the membership of the local organization was around 300, but in late years the membership has fallen off and it has been impossible to muster enough interest to even hold meetings. This week the officers have made an intensive campaign with the result that a good deal of new blood is being brought into the order. Officers soon will be elected for the ensuing year.
